Artistic Ballroom (Standard)

General recommendations for Artistic Ballroom (Standard)

We are looking for an artistic interpretation of all dances in this section in contrast to the more sportive approach to the dances of the International Ballroom (Standard) style. We want to see innovative figures mixed with spectacular entertaining dancing.

The judges will reward Low lifts, separations, side-by-side figures, floor drops and similar.

Couples dancing with the Ballroom hold the whole time will be marked down.

(Low lifts means that no part of the lifted partner's body will be above the lifting partner's shoulders except for the arm needed for supporting the lift). Enough space has to be given to the couples when performing. Recommended amount of couples is 4 in each heat unless the floor is very large).

Low lifts, separations, side-by-side figures, floor drops and similar are allowed

Artistic Viennese Waltz

Tempo of the music = 58 - 60 bars per minute (174 - 180 beats per minute)

Caribbean style

Bachata

Tempo of the music = 28 - 32 bars per minute (112 -128 beats per minute)

Exception: Mini Kids & Juveniles = 30 – 34 bars per minute (120-136 beats per minute)

Characteristics and Movement:

Bachata is of Caribbean origin, and does not move along the Line of Dance (LOD). The basic action is a rather slow, flowing, romantic and passionate movement. The basic is composed of a 3-step moving pattern with a lifting/tilting hip moment without transference of weight on 4. The 4th beat is a hip action (lift, drop), counted "and 4", and NOT a weight transference - "in place, in place" - rather like a Cha-Cha-Cha action/timing, which should only be used as a variation, and not in the basic. A slight counter sway is often used to compliment the Latin Hip movement. There are also many other rhythms, including syncopations, slows and quick's etc., that may be used to interpret the music. Bachata is a club dance, and the couples should focus on one another to create an earthy and sensual feeling through the use of close, intricate rotational movements coupled with an almost playful teasing interaction with one another.

Bolero

The dance known as Bolero in Cuba is usually written in 2/4 time but elsewhere often in 4/4 time. The tempo is in the range between 24-26 Bars per minute, 96-104 Beats,

The first step is typically taken to the side on the first beat, held during the second beat with two more steps falling on beats three and four (cued as "slow-quick-quick"). There is a characteristic rise in the leg and body on the side step (1, 2 counted Slow) when the 3rd and 4th beats of the bar are taken there is a lowering of the body by stepping on to a bent leg. This dance is quite different from the other American Rhythm dances in that it not only requires Cuban motion but rises and falls such as is found in Waltz with strong contra body movements. Popular music for this dance style need not be Latin in origin. Opposite to Mambo and Rumba, the inner leg in Promenades (New Yorkers) taken in Bolero is taken on a bent leg lowering through the body (fall) with no hip action. In Mambo and Rumba the inner legs are taken on a straight knee with a hip action.

Mambo

Mambo is a Latin Dance with its origin in Cuba. Mambo was created during the late 1930s by native a Cuban musician and composer Arsenio Rodrigues and later developed and made popular by Perez Prado and others. The music is written in 4/4 time and the tempo is between 34-36 Bars per minute 136-144 beats per minute.

The Mambo dance that became popular in the 1940s and 50s in Cuba, Mexico City, and New York is completely different from the modern dance that is now called 'Mambo', which is also known as Salsa "on 2". The original mambo dance contains no breaking steps or basic steps at all. Cuban dancers would describe mambo as "feeling the music" in which sound and movement are merged through the body. The Mambo has been standardised for the social and competitive market. The standardised Mambo is very much like the Salsa as the basic steps are taken in the well known format of stepping forward on the LF breaking on the second beat of the bar counting 234-1 and stepping back on the RF again counting 234-1, Lady opposite. As many dancers are used to competing in Salsa where the basic steps are often danced stepping forward on LF breaking on 123-4 it is also acceptable with this rhythm as long as the rhythm is kept through out the performance and that the dancers do not travel in the rhythm.

Merengue

Tempo of the music = 30 - 34 bars per minute in 4/4 time signature (120-136 beats per minute)

Characteristics and Movement:

Merengue is a Latin American Spot Dance, which does not move along the Line of Dance (LOD). Steps are compact at times Latin Hip movements are used throughout in staccato. A slight counter sway is often used to compliment the Latin Hip movement. The basic action is similar to a marching rhythm, but many other rhythms, including syncopations, slows, etc., may be used to interpret the music. Merengue is a club dance, the couples should focus on one another to create an earthy and sensual feeling through the use of close, intricate rotational movements coupled with an almost playful teasing interaction with one another.

Salsa

Tempo of the music = 46 – 50 bars per minute (184 – 200 beats per minute).

Characteristics and movements:

Salsa basic is a double three-step pattern taken during 8 beats of music, in a quick, quick, slow – quick, quick, slow rhythm. It is allowed to break on the 1st and 3rd beat in the bar or the 2nd and 4th beat in the bar. What is important is to keep the consistence of the breaking. If one starts breaking on 1 or 3 it must be continued throughout on 1 or 3 and not suddenly change to break on 2 and 4. Salsa is a very popular club dance in that it allows the dancers much freedom to interpret the music using movements and elements from many different Latino dances. Salsa means, "Sauce", and the dancers should depict a very hot and spicy interaction with each other. Salsa basics involve clever hand and arm movements as well as changes of handhold while maintaining flowing movements, which are all typical of the dance.

Street Cha-Cha-Cha

Street Cha-cha-cha is a popular name for the Salsa community and social dancers around the world who dance Cha-cha-Cha in nightclubs and Caribbean and Salsa Festivals. It's danced very often on 1 with bent legs without any obvious hip movements in the same way the Salsa is mostly danced and not as we are used to see in the competitive Cha-Cha-Cha danced with stretched legs, a hip movement and breaking on 2. The tempo is normally 30-32 bars per minute 120-128 beats per minute.

Timba

Timba is a Cuban genre of music based on popular Cuban music. American Funk/R&B, and a strong influence of Afro-Cuban folkloric music. In Timba you will find a mixture of dances when combined create the popular "Cuban Salsa". To dance Timba you must combine Casino, Son, Rumba, Afro-Yoruba and Cubaton.

Son Cubano music and dance, which started the whole salsa fascination, has its origin in the eastern provinces of Cuba, Oriente. Around 1910 it migrated to western Cuba, including Havana, where it was developed to an extreme that increased the number of instruments and musicians. Havana was the nightlife city, full of music and dance, which was an attraction for American musicians to play there. Due to the Prohibition Cuba was for a while not just a tourist paradise. Son as a dance starts with a very close embrace of the man and the woman. The couple maintains an upright frame, with quick flirtatious side to side movements of the shoulders, torso and hips accenting the underlying six count rhythm of the feet. Since Son is danced off-beat (also known as "contra tempo") the couple moves on the half beat before the one. The leader moves left and holds the "& 1" beat, moves right on the 2nd and left on the 3rd beats. This results in a slow-quick-quick, slow-quick-quick rhythm pattern. Salsa dancers will recognise that this style is the exact opposite of the quick-quick-slow rhythm pattern of modern day Salsa. Basic step in Son begins with a long step, counted 8.1-pause 2,3,4,5,-pause 6,7.

Rumba is a secular genre of Cuban music involving dance, percussion and song? It originated in the northern regions of Cuba, mainly in urban Havana and Matanzas, during the late 19th century. It is based on African music and dance traditions, namely Abakuá and Yuka, as well as the Spanish based coros de clave. There are three different types of Rumba; Guaguansó, Colombia and Yambú. When dancing Timba in couples they usually dance Guagancó. Guaguance has fast complex rhythms involving overtly flirtatious movements between a man and a woman in the roles of "Rooster and "Hen".

Simultaneously the woman entices and protects herself from the man who tries to catch the woman off guard with a 'vacunao', tagging her with the flip of a handkerchief, or by throwing his arm, leg or pelvis in her direction, in an act of symbolic sexual contact. To defend herself she may cover with her hand, or use her skirt, to protect her pelvis, and whip the sexual energy away from her body. Guaguancó most likely inherited the idea of the 'vacunao' from yucca or macuta dances, which were both brought to Cuba by Bantú ethnic groups. The Rooster and Hen dynamic is a feature of many African dances found throughout the Caribbean and Latin America, which was frowned upon or even banned in many places.

Yaruba is a traditional Afro dance of the Santería religion that presents the myths of the stories of the gods. Each God has its own style, movement, colour and outfit. Every dance is dedicated to a particular God, (Orisha). Important facial expressions and gestures determine its character. Elegua, fun loving, ruler of destination where everything begins and ends. Ogun, an aggressive, courageous warrior. Obatala - calm and wise. Chango - lord of thunder. Ochun – feminine and sensual goddess of love. Yemaya – goddess of intelligence and the sea. Oya – a courageous and strong warrior. Narrated through dance they are full of energy and action stories that move the audience into a completely different divine world of magic and trance.

Cubaton is a Cuban variation of Reggaeton, the youngest genre of music and dance in Cuba. A sensual and dynamic style based on strong movements of the chest and hips that highlight the distinctive rhythm of the music.

Traditional style

Artistic Argentine Tango

Tempo of the music = 30 - 32 bars per minute (120 - 128 beats per minute).

Characteristics:

Argentine Tango is a social dance that falls into a smooth category of dance. It follows the Line of Dance (LOD), going around the dance floor in a counter clockwise direction. This dance expresses love and passion, which is evident by the closeness of the dancers, by the man's control and the woman's seductiveness. The dancers execute the figures mainly from the waist down while trying to achieve an interesting interplay between them. This interplay between the partners is dictated by the music, and the dancers should be dancing to something "in" the music. One should be able to see the melody expressed through their movement. The epitome of Argentine Tango is to see the couple dancing with good posture, good extension through the legs, feet almost always caressing the floor, and pausing with the music with a sense of rhythm that is clear to those watching.

Typical Movements: Walks, turns, Ochos to front and back, sandwiches, twists and curls, leg-wraps, drags and saccades to front and back, Boleos that leave the floor and other decorations that allow the legs to swing. Molinetes, Paradass, Barridas, and pauses with the music are also typical of this dance. Brushing and follow through technique is essential in all movements.

Lifts and Acrobatics

Low lifts, separations, drops, shadow figures, open figures without hold can be used but no acrobatics

Tango de Salon

Tempo of the music:

Three different pieces of music at different speed Characteristics:

Tango de Salon is the typical dance that is danced in dance halls at Milongas. Once the hold is formed the couple may not separate while the music is playing. This means that they will not break the embrace, which is considered the basic dance position in tango. For the position to be considered correct, the body of one must be encircled by the arm of the other. It is understood that in certain figures, this may be flexible, but not throughout the duration of the dance. All movements must be made within the space allowed by the couple's embrace.

Typical Movements:

Within these parameters, the couple may perform any commonly used figure, including barridas, saccades, enrosques, etc.

Jumps, climbs, separations and lifts are totally forbidden.

Couples will dance to three different pieces of music at different speeds to show their musicality and ability to improvise. Judges will take into account musicality, improvisation and style of walk.

Exception for dancing the final:

All couples dance together to three different tempos and will be evaluated by the 2-dimensional system.

Tango Escenario Show

Argentine Tango is a social dance that falls into a smooth category. It follows the line of dance (LOD), going around the dance floor in a counter clockwise direction. However, the Tango Escenario is the Performing Art of Argentine Tango, which is more adapted to the stage format.

The performance expresses love and passion, which is evident by the closeness of the dancers, the man's control and the woman's seductiveness.

The dancers execute the figures mainly from the waist down while trying to achieve an interesting interplay between them. This interplay is dictated by the music when the dancers should be dancing to something IN the music. One should be able to see the melody expressed through their movement.

The epitome of Argentine Tango is to see the couple dancing with good posture, good extension through the legs, feet almost always caressing the floor, and pausing with the music with a sense of rhythm that is clear to those watching.

Typical Movements: Walks, turns, Ochos to front and back, sandwiches, twists and curls, leg-wraps, drags and saccades to front and back, Boleos that leave the floor and other decorations that allow the legs to swing.

Wrap figures, spin turns, pivot turns, throw outs, let go and catch again actions are the main characteristics of the dance. Natural hip movements are accepted. Pose figures like over sways, leans, checks, drops and points are allowed.

Swing Dance style

Jitterbug

Tempo of the music = 42 – 44 bars per minute (168 – 176 beats per minute).

Characteristics:

Jitterbug is a social dance that falls into the Swing dance family. Originating in America it has a long tradition. There are well documented literature and videos how to perform this dance.

Typical Movements:

A mix of steps and movements taken from other Swing dances such as Boogie-Woogie, Be Bop, Lindy Hop, Bugg, West and East Coast Swing, etc. All kinds of Swing movements are allowed. Acrobatics, lifts, separations and jumps are allowed and encouraged but if possible should be connected to the musical phrase.

Lifts and acrobatics:

In Jitterbug lifts and acrobatics are allowed in all rounds.

Bugg

Tempo of the music = 42 – 46 bars per minute (168 – 184 beats per minute).

Characteristics and Movement:

The music may be any type of swing music written in 4/4 timing with a boogie beat in the rhythm. Bugg is a non-choreographed dance. All figures must be led by the man. Side-by-side figures are not allowed. The dance should be performed with a smooth flow. The lady walks on every beat (occasional syncopations are allowed). The man's steps are free. Basically he walks on LF on 1 and 3 and with RF on 2 and 4. The dance is moving around the room along the line of dance with the man leading the lady to turn to the left and right while she is circling around the man.

Typical movements:

Spins, hesitations, syncopated spins, kicks, drag, breaks and a playful interaction between the man and the lady following the music and its phrases. Choreographed figures must be performed only as part of the man's natural lead and must not be obvious. Different handholds should be used during the performance. Release of the Lady to throw and catch her hands are allowed and encouraged.

West Coast Swing

Tempo of the music = 26-32 bars per minute (104 – 128 beats per minute).

Characteristics and Movement:

West Coast Swing is a social dance that falls into the Swing dance family and could be defined as a "slot" dance, which means that the woman travels forward and back along a single straight line on the floor, with the man moving off and onto her line. Although there are turning figures, the lady stays on her line. Typical is to use an "Anchor Step" and not a "Coaster Step" at the end of a pattern. The follower is discouraged from moving forward at the end of the pattern until the leader gives an indication to move forward by a strong lead. West Coast style creates lots of turns and syncopated footwork. The man stays pretty much in one place while the woman moves back and forth in a slot. Therefore, it's the woman's movements that are emphasised. West Coast Swing is a living dance, still evolving. It follows the music trends of each decade, and accommodates new dance styles. It can be danced to most of the music played on the radio today, incorporates many dance elements from Disco and Hustle to Hip Hop and Jazz. Figures begin with two walking steps, followed by two triple steps (or a triple step, two walks and another triple, in 8-count figures). The second triple step is generally danced in place ("anchor step") its main purpose is to establish physical tension between the partners, generally achieved by leaning slightly back.

Other possible One Dance Swing disciplines

Typical Movements:

A mix of steps and movements taken from other Swing dances such as Boogie-Woogie, Be Bop, Lindy Hop, Bugg, West and East Coast Swing, etc. All kinds of Swing movements are allowed. Acrobatics, lifts, separations and jumps are allowed and encouraged but if possible should be connected to the musical phrase.

In the final the judges mark the teams in order of merit using the 2-dimensional system by giving two sets of placing. One set for Artistic Merit and the other for Technical Merit.

How to perform the Synchronised Dance Show

Duos

- A duo team consists of two dancers. All movements must be danced in synchronisation side-by-side, in shadow position or behind each other. It is not allowed to dance in an opposite mode, as a couple facing each other, because then there is no synchronisation.
- It is possible to dance the Men's and/or the Ladies steps but always by the two dancers at the same time facing the same way. Avoid keeping the same position in relation to each other during the whole performance. In open dances from the Latin American and Caribbean styles it is important to change places and find different directions to face during the performance. Try to make good use of the floor. In the Ballroom (Standard) style this is not a problem but could be in open dance styles.
- The head, arms, body, legs and feet should be synchronised during the whole performance except for the last 8 bars when it is possible to dance freely, when acrobatics and lifts are allowed.

Trios

- A Trio consists of three dancers and when dancing in opposite mode only two of the dancers can be in shadow with each other.
- A Trio Team may all dance the men's steps or ladies steps.
- One dancer can dance the man's steps and the other two the ladies steps in synchronised shadow mode with or without hold.
- It is also possible to dance the other way around with two dancers dancing the man's steps in synchronised shadow mode and the third dancer the ladies steps.
- When changing from shadow steps to opposite steps and vice versa, zip figures will be used where the steps are not synchronised for a few seconds. Such figures must not exceed 2 bars of music.
- During the last 8 bars of the performance, it is allowed to dance different figures and dance freely to end up in a final pose. The final 8 bars may include acrobatic movements and lifts.

Teams and Showcases

- a. All dancers in the team are dancing exactly the same figures at the same time, either as man or as lady, solo or as a couple. It is possible to turn and move in different directions, making different patterns so long as all dancers are dancing the same figure.
- b. All figures can be danced by all dancers in two ways, either as the leader or as the follower.
- c. It is allowed to dance solo with shadow steps or with a hold as a couple with opposite steps. However a well balanced mix of dancing solo and as a couple will be rewarded. All dancers must have at least one other dancer who is dancing the same steps facing the same way in a synchronised mode as a shadow. This means that it is not possible to have one man dancing the man's steps and all other dancers in the team dancing the ladies steps. At least one more dancer must also dance the man's steps shadowing him in a synchronised mode.
- d. When changing from shadow steps to opposite steps and vice versa, a zip figure must be used where the steps are not synchronised for a few seconds.
Such figures must not exceed 2 bars of music.
- e. During the last 16 bars of the performance, it is allowed to dance different figures and dance freely to finish in a final pose. The final 16 bars may include acrobatic movements and lifts.

Recommendation

It is recommended that the choreography of a team should look more or less synchronised all the time except for the last 16 bars of music. It is better to keep the figures rather simple, not changing the mode of dancing from couples to solo too many times or too often. Keep the zip figures, when changing the mode as smooth and quick as possible. The judges will look for exact synchronisation in the arm, hand, leg, head and body movements. Changing the mode too often will make the general impression of the team look unsynchronised. On the other hand the judges will reward changing of patterns and clever choreography that makes the performance interesting. Avoid the obvious solution that all dancers keep their places in the formation facing the front all the time and dancing either only as couples or only as solo dancers.

Criterion for Judging

- a. The judges will reward good synchronisation between the team members.
- b. It is important how the team uses the floor space available.
- c. Clever choreography, impressive impact of each team member with correct technique is also important but the team is always judged as a whole and not as individuals.
- d. During the qualifying rounds the judges' will use the 2-dimensional system by giving two set of crosses. One for Artistic Merit, the other for Technical Merit.
- e. In the Final the judges' use the 2-dimensional system by giving two sets of placing. One set for Artistic Merit, the other for Technical Merit.

Open marking is not to be used.

Snapping fingers, clapping hands, patting the head, boxing movements, head turns, tilting of the body and similar easy movements. It is important that the same move or movements are repeated for the same part of the song or melody.
- d. To make the dance more interesting sometimes the team is divided into several small groups or two large groups, who take turns and interact with each other in a playful way. It is possible for one group to dance on their knees for example while the other group stands and dance the other way around.
- e. There are no limits to the movements that can be used. It's considered as a good point of performance when the team moves to different positions, dances two groups fronting one each other etc. but the simplicity of dancing must be kept.

Afro-Cuban Dance Show

Music

The music contains mainly batá drums (three levels) and conga drums, quinto, shekere cajon, bongos and timbales. The tempo varies and any tempo is acceptable.

The Afro-Cuban Dance Show is a mix of these influential African dances. The performance has a high intensive energy. The bodies are held in a bent forward position while the arms move up and down, forward and back in conjunction with the steps and the body-rhythm. Dance Hall Competitions

Dance Hall is a folk form (folk form is defined as a cultural material that is of the people, by the people, for the people), which is a derivative of Reggae music and movement that was born in the late 1980s. Dance Hall is about form and function as a singular experience, as it remains an open-ended genre that allows additional codified dance steps to be constantly added to it. To be defined as Dance Hall, the movement must show reference a Jamaican cultural aesthetic, history and socio-economic context (as the time, location and social situation are critical in its understanding and authenticity). There is also an "out of body"/"vibez"/spiritual component that is part and parcel of the Dance Hall experience that allows for the dancer to elevate. The principles of dancehall dance include movement, which is grounded, curvy, fluid and polyrhythmic. These principles are generally not taught directly to Dance Hall practitioners and creators, as they are inherited through their natural ancestral bloodline and the experiences they live.

Dance Hall is a street dance style primarily performed to Dance Hall music, evolved as a part of the Dance Hall culture. It includes a wide range of codified steps with "specific" names, which are directly influenced by the Jamaican way of life. Modern/New Style/Lyrical Hip Hop Competitions

The dance industry responded to hip-hop dance by creating a commercial version of it. This studio hip-hop, sometimes called "new style", is the kind of hip-hop dance seen in rap, R&B, and pop music videos and concerts. Modern hip-hop (or new style hip-hop) is choreographed urban party dancing with studio technique added to it.

From a technical aspect, it is characterised as hard-hitting involving flexibility and isolations, moving a specific body part independently from another. The feet are grounded, the chest is down, the posture is hunched, and the body is kept loose so that dancers can easily alternate between hitting the beat or moving through the beat. Like African Dance, new style hip-hop is very rhythmical and involves a lot of footwork and radial movement of the hips. In addition, emphasis is placed on musicality - how sensitive your movements are to the music—and being able to freestyle (improvise). As long as dancers keep the fundamental movements, they can add their own (free) style and present a performance that is still hip-hop.

Popping and Locking competitions

Popping & Locking

Popping is a street dance and one of the original funk styles that came from California during the 1960s-1970s. Popping means to quickly contract and relax muscles to create a jerking effect (a pop or hit) in the body. Popping can be concentrated to specific body parts creating variants such as arm pops, leg pops, chest pops and neck pops. They also can vary in explosiveness. Stronger pops normally involve popping both the lower and upper body simultaneously.

Locking is a style of funk dance, which is today also associated with hip hop. The name is based on the concept of locking movements, which basically means freezing from a fast movement and "locking" in a certain position, holding that position for a short while and then continuing in the same speed as before. It relies on fast and distinct arm and hand movements combined with more relaxed hips and legs. The movements are generally large and exaggerated, and often very rhythmic and tightly synced with the music.

Tempo of the Music: Tempo: 28-32 bars per minute (112-128 beats per minute)

Characteristics and Movement:

Poses in popping make heavy use of angles, mime style movements and sometimes facial expressions. The lower body has many ways to move around from basic walking and stepping to the more complex and gravity defying styles of floating and electric boogaloo. Movements and techniques used in popping are generally focused on sharp contrasts and extremes, being either robotic, rigid or very loose and flowing. Popping is almost always performed standing up, except in rare cases when the dancer goes down on the knees or to the floor to perform a special move. Locking may be done in solo or in unison with two or more dancers doing steps or handshakes together. A locker may smile while performing to emphasize the comical nature of the dance. Other important stylistic features are waving of arms, pointing, walking stationary and grabbing and rotating the cap or hat.

Urban Street

Urban Street Dance is a broad category that includes a variety of urban styles. The older dance styles that were created in the 1970s include up-rock, breaking, and the funk styles. At the same time breaking was developing in New York, other styles were being created in California. Several street dance styles created in California in the 1970s such as roboting, bopping, hitting, locking, bustin', popping, electric boogaloo, strutting, sac-ing, and dime-stopping. It is historically inaccurate to say that the funk styles were always considered hip-hop. "Hip-Hop Dance" became an umbrella term encompassing all of these styles.
